

DEWEY'S BETROTHED SAMOAN AFFAIR A TRIUMPH FOR AMERICAN DIPLOMACY.

They Make an Epigram in Honor of Her Happiness.

THEY ALL PRAISE HER.

"She Does Not Need to Be Beautiful to Be Adorable," They Say.

Mrs. Mildred Hazen was at home yesterday, except in the hours of the morning that are not counted in the diaries of women in fashionable society. Then she was out of doors for the pleasure of walking in the sun.

Intimate friends who called at noon found her. She was exquisite. As ever, they observed that she had blond hair, all fluffy, thick eyebrows and blue eyes. They said that her mouth was a marvel.

The bow of it is smiling and melancholy, the lips have at their corners an enchanting smile.

Her waist was in a gown striped in the fashion of the day. Her wrists were delicate. A sweet, caressing, magnetic expression was in the air around her. They said, "She does not need to be beautiful in order to be adorable."

"What does she say?" they were asked. A young woman replied, "She says that she loves the Admiral with all her heart and for life. She says that she does not know why he loves her. I tell her that one loves really only when one loves without reason. In the conversation some one invented an epigram I never heard of."

Admiral Dewey's charming character, that Mrs. Hazen's friends have learned from her is a masterpiece of kindness. They say, "He cannot bear the thought of a person suffering. He would deprive himself of bread to feed even a bad man, an agent."

As Admiral Dewey's betrothed Mrs. Mildred Hazen is entirely unaffected and successful.

ENATOR DANIEL'S SPEECH SURPRISES DEMOCRATS.

His Words Interpreted to Mean That He Is Opposed to Bryan's Renomination.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4.—By far the most interesting event of the whole Virginia campaign was the speech of Senator Daniel last Monday. His utterances indicate his doubt of the renomination of Bryan by the Democrats.

The speech has aroused an interest in the last hours of the campaign which nothing else has been able to do.

The declaration of Senator Daniel that should the Democrats fail of success in Virginia and Ohio, it may be that a new it will raise his visit at the National Convention, just as Bryan raised his in the past.

It has given the widespread impression that the Virginia Senator is not for Bryan's renomination next year.

The team was stopped by Francis Coyne, of the mounted squad.

Tripartite Agreement to End—Tutuila Island, with Pango Pango Bay, to Belong to the United States—Great Britain and Germany to Share the Remaining Islands.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The United States, Great Britain and Germany decided today to dissolve the tripartite agreement by which these three powers control the Samoan Islands.

The United States has by this decision been guaranteed the possession of Tutuila Island and Pango Pango Bay, as it is usually called, Pango Pango Bay. The disposition of the remaining islands by Great Britain and Germany is a matter still pending.

The decision to dissolve the three-power compact was reached today at a joint meeting at the State Department of Dr. David I. Hill, Assistant Secretary of State; Baron von Schwarzenstein, German Charge d'Affaires, and Mr. Tower, British Charge d'Affaires.

The original draft of the convention proposed by Germany to Great Britain, the successive negotiations on which have been published from day to day exclusively by the Journal, was materially changed by intercession today. When the final terms were put on the draft Chief Clerk of the Diplomatic Bureau, Sydney J. Smith, was sent for and instructed to have the convention engrossed.

The statement was made that the representatives of Great Britain and Germany would meet next week at the State Department and sign the protocol.

United States Gains Its Point.

This protocol is described officially as a tentative agreement, but the fact that it will be ratified by Great Britain and Germany shows conclusively that the United States has gained its point, which is that Great Britain and Germany shall cede to the United States full control over the island of Tutuila and its bay of Pango Pango.

Officials say that the protocol just agreed to was a condition precedent to the ratification by Great Britain and Germany of the changes of territory in Samoa for territory elsewhere.

So far as the United States is concerned, it is held that the long looked for partition of Samoa is an accomplished fact, by reason of the important action taken today.

State Department authorities say that Great Britain and Germany have agreed to range between the terms on which either will surrender its interests to the other power. The failure of these two powers to agree has been the result of these causes:

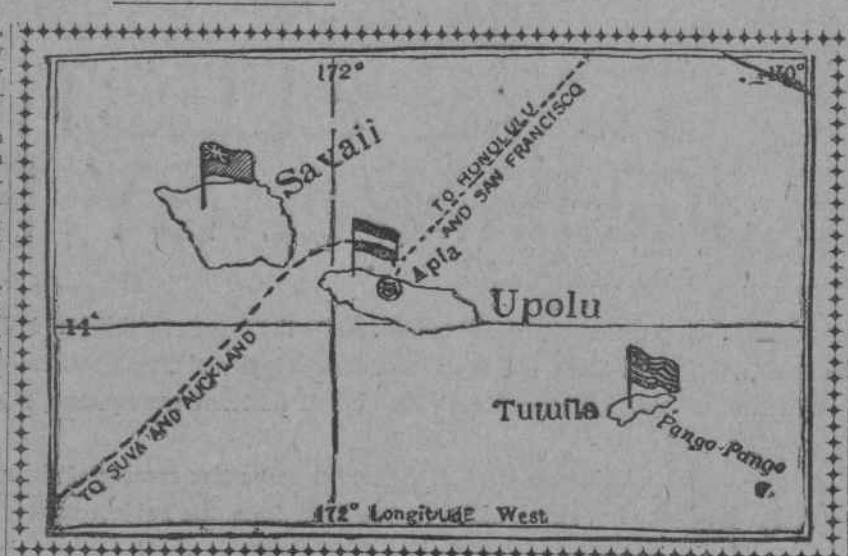

First—The original draft of the convention submitted to Great Britain by Germany was opposed by Great Britain, because in effect it would make Germany the one power in control, as it was proposed that England should retire and the United States be restricted to Pango Pango Harbor.

Second—The Australian, New Zealand and the Solomon and Gilbert Islands' interests (all British) protested to the home Government against Great Britain withdrawing from Samoa.

Third—The great German commercial interests in Samoa objected to Germany's abandonment of the islands, and especially to the loss of the town of Apia. One of the chief objections was that Germany would lose the most important and the best and nearest Pacific ports to the Newguinea Canal, with the exception of Hawaii.

While the American diplomats prefer not to know what terms have been agreed upon in the German and British negotiations, it is hinted that England will be forced to remain in the Samoan group while Germany will override the objections of the German commercial interests in Samoa, and take over the Solomon and Gilbert Islands from England, with the additional gain that England shall guarantee Germany's colony in Southwestern Africa.

The international complications of today have made it more desirable to the United States that Great Britain and the United States remain as neighbors in Samoa than that the neighbors should be the United States and Germany.

Map of the Samoan Islands.

Under the decision to end the tripartite agreement by which the United States, Great Britain and Germany have controlled the islands, the United States receives a guarantee of undisputed possession of Tutuila Island, with Pango Pango Bay, all it asked, while England and Germany are left to share the remaining islands between them.

England Gains, Germany Gains.

It was intimated by an official, however, that the negotiations between Berlin and London, which are expected to continue tonight and to-morrow, might change the situation, and that Germany might remain in Samoa. In that event Germany's "compensation" would be the control of the important islands of Upolu and Savaii, with the guarantee by Great Britain of the integrity of Germany's South African dependency.

England's advantage would be the continued neutrality of Germany in the Transvaal fight, and the moral effect of the alliance between Germany and Great Britain, which would be played by Great Britain as a menace to the continental powers against their intervention in her affairs either in South Africa, Turkey, Egypt or China.

An important result of today's action is that through the cleverness of Secretary Hill and Assistant Secretary Hill, who have had this negotiation in charge, the United States has worked itself out of a position that threatened to be most unpleasant. Great Britain originally desired permission to withdraw from Samoa with the intention of letting Germany and the United States wrangle over the partition of the islands.

The United States objected to this, and now has secured possession of everything it wanted. Tutuila Island, with Pango Pango Harbor, and has left Germany and Great Britain to do the wrangling as to the disposition shall be made of the rest of the group. It is a general triumph for the State Department and a particular achievement for the diplomatic Professor Hill.

Tutuila is the smallest of the three important Samoan islands, and is the most easterly of the group. It has a population of about 4,000. The island is of volcanic origin, and consists entirely of a mountain ridge, descending on both sides abruptly to the sea.

But it is not of the land that the United States has so long sought possession. The most valuable consideration of the island is the fine, landlocked harbor of Pango Pango. It makes an excellent coaling and naval station, and work on the construction of the largest steel wharf in the world has begun there recently. This wharf will be 500 feet long, by 50 feet wide, and the approach will be 32 feet wide and 400 feet deep. The wharf will afford accommodation for the largest naval vessels in the world.

STEAMER SAN JUAN LAUNCHED.

New Method of Releasing a Vessel Is Tested Successfully at Wilmington.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 4.—The steamer San Juan was launched today at the yards of the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company. Instead of the customary sawing of a plank to release the vessel, an arrangement operated by releasing a weight was used. It worked successfully, and the vessel glided easily into the river.

Miss Louise Adams Ceballos christened the steamer. She is a daughter of J. M. Ceballos, president of the New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company, owners of the ship. The San Juan is 335 feet long, 42 beam and 19 feet in depth, with 3,000 tons. She will ply between New York and San Juan, Porto Rico.

The situation is more favorable to the Democrats now at the close of the night than it has been at any time during the Fall campaign, the most remarkable in the State's history. The Republicans have no chance whatever to carry the State.

I believe the Administration will be upheld and re-elected. I do not look for a landslide, but everything points in a conservative way to Republican success.

4-YEAR-OLD BOY A FAITH CURE VICTIM.

Scientists' Prayers for Three Years His Only Treatment.

HAD NO MEDICAL AID.

Chicago Parents Only Discarded One Faith Healer to Try Another.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—After three years of intense suffering four-year-old Kenneth McKee, son of Benjamin McKee, a telephone operator, died last night at his home, No. 430 Newport avenue, a victim of Christian Science.

During all the months of suffering no medical aid was summoned by the parents, who are firm believers in Christian Science, and the only treatment the little fellow received was the prayers and good wishes of a dozen or more disciples of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy's teachings.

The McKee family occupies a snugly furnished cottage in the neighborhood of Lane Park. The condition of little Kenneth was well known throughout the neighborhood and frequent efforts were made to induce the parents to send for a physician to attend him.

When Kenneth was little less than a year old, he became ill, and Mrs. Blaine, who bore a high reputation in Christian Science circles, was called to attend him. Her prayers were of no avail.

The father at last became alarmed over the state of affairs and consulted one of the members of the faith, with the result that the services of Roger Sherman were secured. Sherman had had experience in treating children of tender age, and his efforts were looked forward to with hope.

He Jumped from a Window and Made His Escape in a Shower of Bullets.

Frank B. Poor, a millionaire resident of Hackensack, who is president of the Bergen County Gas and Electric Light Company, the Hackensack Trust Company and the Hackensack Board of Trade, headed a party of a dozen men early yesterday morning in a hunt for a burglar who attempted to rob his house.

Policeman Baar and W. C. Thomas, a brother-in-law of Mr. Poor, were in the party. The house was completely surrounded and every electric light was blazing. The burglar, fearful of arrest, took a desperate chance and jumped from the second story window. The men followed him below that the burglar escaped across the meadows. Everybody shot at him, but he escaped injury.

STOLE PART OF THE WALDORF-ASTORIA.

Charles Anderson, a Belonged to a Non-Union Party Which Was Aggressive.

Junkman, Was Carting It Off in Sections.

NEAR BELVIER, MISSOURI.

A man who liked the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and tried to steal it and take it down to his house in West Twenty-sixth street, is a prisoner in the West Thirtieth street police station. Proprietor Boldt, of the hotel, was congratulating himself last night that it was still there, and was thinking of having cables put around it to defeat the burglars.

An iron staircase valued at $250 was taken from the fourteenth floor and put in the courtyard. During the excitement attendant on the automobile parade yesterday, a junkman drove into the court and carried off half the staircase. This was all his wagon would hold. When the hotel people missed the property they wisely decided that the thief would return for the other half and sentinels were posted.

And sure enough a wagon soon drove into the yard. Three men began lifting the piece of staircase aboard. Timothy Sullivan, an employee of Mr. Boldt's, gave a whoop and ran toward the marauders. Two escaped, but the third, Charles Anderson, of West Twenty-sixth street, was captured and locked up.

"I wanted that staircase because it was the finest I ever saw," he said by way of excuse. "It was a fine piece of work, and I wanted it for my own use."

The police are looking for the first half of the staircase, which is worth $125, but is of no value to any one but the rightful owner.

SEVERELY CRITICISED FOR CARE OF ILL SOLDIERS.

Army Officers Held Responsible for Deporable Condition of Men on Transports from Philippines.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 4.—The most sensational report of a military board of inquiry ever sent to the War Department from this city has been forwarded to Washington from the headquarters of General Shafter.

The report contains the severest criticism of the methods of officers in charge of the sick soldiers who returned from the Philippines on the transports. The board, which was organized on October 10, upon Major Ratter, surgeon of the Twentieth Kansas Volunteers, the board's criticism is laid.

Many other officers are given a harsh measure of criticism, but their names are withheld for the present. Sick men on the transports were found to be in a deplorable condition.

2 NEGROES KILLED IN RIOT OF MINERS.

Sheriff and Deputies Called on, Depart for the Scene.

NEAR BELVIER, MISSOURI.

Macoon, Mo., Nov. 4.—Two negroes were killed and several were wounded in a riot of miners near Belvier yesterday.

Afterward a body of non-union negroes invaded a mine, which had lately been leased to W. E. Murfin by the Kansas & Texas Company, and which was to start up next week with union men. They were met by a body of union men, and after the exchange of a few shots, were driven off, but it is feared they will return.

The negro miners had been attacked by armed men and that several had been killed and wounded.

The negroes had been warned by the company not to enter the blockade, but several had been breaking the rule.

ILLINOIS GUARDSMEN ANGRY AT GOVERNOR.

His Suggestion That the Militia Be Cued Down to One Regiment of Infantry and Artillery Resented.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Officers of the Illinois National Guard are nettled by Commander-in-Chief Tamm's strictures on the efficiency of the organization and his suggestion that it be cut down to one regiment of infantry and one battery of artillery.

The regiments of the Illinois National Guard, they say, have not received fair treatment from the State, and the fund appropriated for maintenance of the guard have disappeared in some mysterious manner, so that the officers are in no mood to entertain such criticisms from Governor.

His principal assertion that the National Guard is superfluous in view of the statutory provision that every resident of the State from eighteen to forty years of age is a member of the militia of the State is regarded as a bit of stupidity to which the commander-in-chief of the organization should not have given utterance.

Ellis Held for Requisition Papers.
